Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This one-story and two-story flat-roofed commercial building was probably built during the 1950's. It is a concrete-block structure with a modern pressed-brick veneer. Bands of vertical stretcher bricks provide the decoration. Seams in this brickwork make it clear that the one-and two-story sections of this building were constructed at different times. The facade is an arrangement of plate-glass commercial windows and double-door entrances. A varigated brick veneer and mansard roof have recently been added to the north end wall.
